Walking Cane by Fred Denke

Our January demonstrator is Fred Denke. a retired engineer who spent 42 years in the aircraft industry. After retiring on January 1,1999, in a effort to fill his leisure time, he purchased a wood turning lathe and has enjoyed the hobby or craft, whichever you prefer, ever since.

This month Fred will tell the story of his walking cane and how he developed a technique for constructing a 31-inch walking cane using a Jet Mini lathe

Only a few tools are required for this project. It is a cross between using a pen mandrel and conventional spindle turning. The end product can be simple or if you are an experienced turner of beads and coves they can be added to the cane. This demo will only show a simple cane without beads or coves.

President's report for January 2016

- Welcome to our new member Mike Fitzpatrick.
- Dues are due for 2016 so see James Haynes and settle up. If you are an AAW member, and I encourage everyone to join, 2016 dues are also due.
- If you missed the Christmas dinner you should not have. We had a great time with a lot of giveaways, raffles and record beating auction. It's not too early to get this year's dinner on your schedule. It will be on Saturday December 10th.
- You should have received an email with special information on this month's meeting. We will be having a drawing for equipment donated by Phillip Herscowitz .You will need to pick up 5 drawing tickets when you enter and place them in the cup adjacent to the item(s) you would like. If you have a better lathe than will be offered, please reserve the lathes for new turners.
- As you know, long time member and friend Max Taylor died this month, and as is our custom, we will sign a platter and present it to his wife Millie in his honor.
- John Horn has done it again. We will have internationally famous turner Stuart Batty with us for a week of classes and an all day demo in April. John will have signup sheets available so get onboard early. To give the most members an opportunity to participate you may register for only one class. If you want more, you may sign up on a wait list in case someone cancels. See John's article in this newsletter.
- "Bob's Challenge" response for November was a bit lower than past months but we had enough table decorations for the Christmas dinner. The challenge for January is one large diameter candle holder or two tall thin holders. I don't know what February will be as Bob keeps it his secret. Remember you get one quarterly drawing ticket for each challenge you participate in. We are adding funds this year to make the challenge drawing even better.

- This is the last chance to get your 2015 empty bowls turned in. The turners with the most bowls will be the first to get a chance at attending and demonstrating at the Empty Bowls luncheon next month.
- On the 29th twelve WNT members will be teaching 5th graders at Smithfield Elementary how to turn a candlestick. Thank you members for signing up, you will enjoy the challenge and camaraderie. If you were unable to help at Smithfield, then please consider volunteering for our next civic event.
- See you at 6:30pm Thursday and be safe. We don't need a "safety coordinator".

Glynn Cox
President

Who's up for a Challenge?

You guys are amazing. Each month ya'll turn in beautiful work, using your own style and techniques. If you don't participate in the challenge program, you should give it a try. I think you will find that it helps to develop turning skills that you will use through out your turning career.

Our challenge for December was to turn a center piece for the Christmas dinner tables. These will be donated to the club. Eighteen (18) members participated producing 20 items. We received all different kinds of centerpieces, all of high quality. Below is a list of members who turned centerpieces for the December Challenge

Jim Barkelew	Glynn Cox	Larry Roberts
David Baulch	Rick Gauthier	Larry Stephens
Tom Beatty	Jimmy Gill	Pam Thompson
David Carter	Ron Howe	Bob Wiggins
Bob Clark	Sandy Jarrell	Don York
Kelton Cloud	Jim McGregor	Scotty Wisdom

If you turned a table decoration for the Christmas party and your name is not on the above list, let me know. I want to make sure everyone who participated gets credit.

The challenge for January is to turn a candlestick. The requirement is that if you turn holders for the small taper candles, it needs to be a pair. If you turn a holder for the larger candles, one will do. I'm thinking we will have some nice work shown at the meeting.

We will be having our challenge tool drawing in February. Lots of nice prizes. Turn a challenge and join in on the fun.

Stuart Batty Classes

Stuart Batty, formerly from England, will be our Spring 2016 featured demonstrator/hands-on instructor. Stuart is considered one of the best demonstrator/instructors on our planet. If you have been to SWAT or the AAW Symposium you have most likely seen the crowds he draws whether or not he has a place in the regular rotation of demonstrators.

Consider watching his 34 free videos at <https://vimeo.com/woodturning> . Although watching his videos is a tremendous learning tool, taking a class from Stuart will absolutely blow you away with the techniques and practices that you will learn. It can be a major turning point for you as a woodturner. It was for me.

For further information about Stuart, go to Google and search for Stuart Batty. You will be amazed at the amount and quality of the data you find.

Since we expect Stuart's classes to fill up and overflow very quickly, in the beginning of the registration period, a person may only sign up for one class. Classes are limited to six students per class. If someone wants more than one class, their name will be placed on the Alternate List for the other class they would desire. If the second class they desire to attend is not filled by the March club meeting time, the alternates will have first choice of any classes that are not filled.

The class fees are $150 per day. The Saturday All-Day Demonstration is FREE to club members and only $10 to non-club members. The All-Day Demo will be held at the regular club meeting place. Hands-On classes will be held at a location to be announced at a later date.

Schedule of Events
